

Reeves and Clickner Headliners in Third All-Star Show at Convention Hall Tonight

BOXERS ALL FINISH TRAINING; DEAN AND LINCOLN BOTH HERE

All Three Star Bouts Seem Evenly Matched, Making the Card Stand Above Recent Shows as Whole; Clickner to Get Severe Test in "Homecoming"—Carl Morris Picked as Referee, Gahan Being Detained in Little Rock.

Every one of the eight boxers who'll participate tonight in the third all-star fistic card to be presented at Convention hall by the Oil City Athletic club went through the final limbering-up process at the T. A. C. gym yesterday afternoon, and each quit the training quarters satisfied that he is fit for the fray.

Boxers All Finish Work.

Sailor Glenn Clickner, of Tulsa, and Jack Reeves of San Francisco, top-notch young light-heavyweights, who clash in the 15-round main event, confined their last day's training to light work and were pronounced "ready" by their handlers, Freddie Lincoln of Port Smith and Frankie Dean of Kansas City, the lightweights who face each other in the semi-main event, and a hustler afternoon. They only reached the city yesterday, and each was desirous of quite a bit of exercise after the railroad rides. Pop Keener, Warden Smith's sparring partner, and Mickey King, middleweight who is to furnish entertainment in the first 10-rounder, took things easy and appear in trim.

All Matches Appear Even.

There's one thing that seems to make tonight's card stand out over most of those presented recently. That's the apparent evenness of the opponents in every match. Take the main event. Clickner is a younger and has been climbing rapidly in the last year, but Reeves is one of the most rugged punchers who ever stepped into a ring in Tulsa, and figures to give and take with Clickner and keep things humming. Lincoln and Dean, the semi-finalists, are two of the finest looking lightweights who have been seen here in some time, both young and promising, both sturdy. Keener and King, the initial 10-rounders, are a pair of well-conditioned youths who look like they could stand a whole lot. Keener is able to take Warden Smith's jabs and uppercuts and keep up, which is saying quite a bit. In fact it appears that a real contest is in the order in each of the three main bouts.

Morris to Be Third Man.

Carl Morris, the giant sapulpa heavyweight and once the hope of the white race, will be the third man in the ring in the main event. Morris was selected as referee when a telegram came from Gahan, the Oil City A. C. regular official, saying that he was detained in Little Rock and could not be here, Wednesday night.

Morris was acceptable to the managers of both Reeves and Clickner, and Manager Newman of the O. C. A. C. looked no further for a referee when Big Carl expressed his willingness to serve. Morris, veteran of the ring himself, knows all the rules and will surely be able to make the boxers step around to suit him.

"Sure Morris suits me," said Chuck Hagdon, manager of Clickner. "All I want is a man who knows the game and is fair—and I know Carl fills both those requirements."

Carl is busy training for a bout in Fort Worth late this month, and the 15 rounds with the fast light-heavyweights, should do him good.

Clickner, a former expert, and Reeves and Clickner are both boxers of the aggressive type. They are certain to make an interesting exhibition.

Lightweights Look Good.

Fans who got a view of Freddie Lincoln and Frankie Dean in action at the T. A. C. gym in their work-out yesterday afternoon went away convinced that the advanced reports on these two fighters were not overdrawn. They are well built lightweights and both show the results of steady training. One thing certain is that which ever one loses if either does, will not give "poor condition" as an alibi.

One feature of tonight's show will be the "new faces." While Clickner and Reeves both have appeared in Tulsa rings on several occasions—and always were returned winners—by the way they really will be new because neither has boxed here in a year. The others are all making their debut. Not a boxer is on tonight's card who appeared on the last O. C. A. C. program.

Newman, matchmaker, believes the fans like to see different faces, and therefore congratulates himself on tonight's offering.

Another K. O. For Walker.

WICHITA, Jan. 17.—Hugh Walker of Kansas City stopped Jack Moran of St. Louis in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight. Walker landed on Moran so hard and so often in the third round that Referee Johnny Huzong stopped the fight. Moran spent most of this round on the floor, but always managed to scramble to his feet at the ninth count. Walker weighed 178 pounds and Moran 122.

BLUE DICK AND PEERLESS HARE WIN FEATURES

Mid-Week Program Today Brings Together Elite of the Course

Blue Dick, J. M. Fletcher's sensational blue pelt, found the five-sixteenth distance north to his liking when he swayed to travel it yesterday at Mid-Continent park for the first time. He jumped in front of a fast field almost all the way, winning with ease by six lengths from such dogs as Step Ahead, Creole Sue and Collins. Step Ahead, the spectacular hurdler, was slow in getting started and probably missed the jumps, but finished well.

Peerless Hare won the sprint feature of the program, the last race, in a walk, having a margin of 10 lengths over Playfellow, the second dog. His time was 29.3-5. Another winner by 10 lengths was King Spot in the second race, Hervis finishing second and Soberhead third. The fifth race developed the closest finish of the day, Cyclone Star winning by a neck from Oscar Cannon, which had only a head margin over Bud News.

Some of the elite of the Mid-Continent course will be seen in action today. The fourth race, five-sixteenths, has Ernest Wild Bill, Rush Reuben, Olive Cannon, Sandstorm, Behave Yourself and Sawbuck as contenders, while in the third, at a quarter of a mile, there will be Ritzing Bull, The Tiger, Marblehead, Flying Clara, Dutch Bergman and Mickey Clair contesting.

Britton Held to Draw by Clancy in 10 Rounds

Special to The World.

ADA, Jan. 17.—Coach Thompson of the East Central Teachers is taking his second trip this year this week, when he takes the local college quartet to Tulsa for two games with the Tulsa university. The teams will meet Friday and Saturday night, with the dope favoring the Tulsa squad.

Two games have been added to the belt of the local school, while they have lost four. The victory over the Baptist university last Saturday night has added hope to the local squad and they are turning out strong for practice this week. Paul Warner was elected captain of the squad last week.

Even Bat Nelson Has to Fork Over To See First Show

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Oscar Mathews (Battling) Nelson, former night-weight champion of the world, today is "out" $5.50, the price of two tickets for a boxing contest. "It's the first time Nelson has been forced to dig into his pockets to see a fight."

Nelson, with his little brother, Bat, Jr., attempted to "crash" the gate at a boxing stag and presented himself for the usual powers.

"Who are you that you should get passes?" queried the man in the ticket cage.

"What have you done for boxing?"

"Who, me?—I'm Bat Nelson!" shouted the former titleholder.

"That racket don't go here, lay down the dough."

Nelson, mumbling words of disgust, produced the $5.50 and passed inside.

Bambino Must Be Real Superman if He Sets New Mark

BY JACK VELOCK
I. N. R. Sporting Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Babe Ruth will break no home run records this year. That is, if the suspension against him holds and it is believed that it will.

This is the opinion of baseball men in general and although official word of New York Yankees today declined to discuss the probable effect a month's suspension will have on Ruth's hitting, it is a practical thing they feel the same way about it.

The case of the home run king has been revived by the circulation of a rumor that the major leagues will throw out the rule against batters' striking out in the first inning of a game in which they are suspended.

This rumor is vigorously denied in some quarters, for it is pointed out, Judge Landis' decision must be strictly upheld, with no show of attempts at evasion and that the reinstatement of Ruth now would be looked upon as a purely commercial move.

"We have heard nothing of the case of Ruth or Meusel since Judge Landis handed down his decision," said Business Manager Ed Barrow of the Yankees today. "And all I know is that the ruling does not apply to suspensions in the first inning of a game in which they are suspended."

Providing Ruth's suspension stands and he gets started on his 1922 campaign for home runs within five days of May 20, when he will again be eligible to enter the Yankee lineup, he will start just 12 home runs behind his record for last season.

Ruth got his first homer last season on April 15 and his twelfth on May 17, at Cleveland. He did not get his thirteenth until May 25. So the task cut out for the big babe when he is kept out of the lineup will be just about as big as a house.
